MEMORIAL SERVICES!

HELD IN HONOR OF THE LATE SAMUEL COLERIDGE TAYLOR

AN INTERESTING PROGRAM RENDERED!

Annual Literary Contest to be Held at Bethel Church—Frontenac Club will Give Ball Thanksgiving Night—Ladies' Auxiliary to Give Dance Nov. 19.

(By Cary B. Lewis.)

Chicago, Ill., Special, November 12.

Dr. Charles E. Bentley, one of the leading dental surgeons of this country, and who is deeply interested in the uplift of his race, was the principal speaker last Sunday at Institutional church, where the life and character of the late Samuel Coleridge Taylor was eulogized under the auspices of the Choral Study Club. An interesting and illuminating program was rendered; the numbers being taken from the songs and works of the lamented composer.

Attorney J. Gray Lucas was master of ceremonies, and Mr. Walter Gossett directed the Choral Study Club. The following program was rendered:

1 Introductory Remarks, J. Gray Lucas
2 Chorus—"Hiawatha's Departure".. ....Samuel Coleridge Taylor
Choral Study Club.
3 "When I Am Dead, Dearest"...... ....Samuel Coleridge Taylor
Mrs. M. Marshall.
4 Violin Solo—"Deep River"........ ....Harrison Emmanuel
5 Solo—"Prayer"—"Dawn" ....Samuel Coleridge Taylor
Mrs. M. B. Anderson.
6 "Earth Fades, Heaven Breaks on Me;" "Weep Not, Beloved Friends" ....D. Protheroe
7 Chorus—"From the "Blind Girl of Castle Guille......Choral Study Club

At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Pedro Tinsley was chosen as president of a committee to make the occasion an annual one. Dr. Charles E. Bentley was chosen secretary and Mr. James S. Madden, treasurer.

Dr. Bentley Speaks.

In the course of the address Dr. Bentley said: "The music world lost a most distinguished member and the colored people its most gifted musical genius on September 1, 1912, in the death of Mr. Samuel Coleridge Taylor, of London, England.

"It is rare indeed, that we, as a people, are called upon to pay tribute to exponents of the arts of poetry and music, who belong to us by racial ties. For ages they have been the highest products of the more favored races with a heritage replete with opportunity and every advantage. While art truly belongs to no race or age, but universal, each race has been ever ready to claim its own for in this regard its representatives touch the hem of immortals. The arts of poetry and music are the highest reaches of a people in their efforts to enjoy the full sunburst of civilization. Often they are expressive of sorrow and travail, and here they have their uses, as I will endeavor to show later; but when they reach the high plane of universality, when they sing for mankind rather than man; when they touch the heart, quicken the spirit and fire the imagination of Russian, Turk, Englishman and American alike, 'tis then they have reached the highest peaks known yet to civilization."

Dr. Bentley told of the early career of the lamented composer, his prolific writings, connections with the leading musical organizations of London, ability as a teacher, orchestra leader and spoke of the many songs and cantatas that eminated from the brain of Mr. Taylor.

The speaker became eloquent when he said: "Creation is the link that binds us to the infinite. Its mysterious workings escape the shrewdest processes of human analyses. It is Godlike. I twas the gift of Blind Tom as it is the gift of Thomas Edison. It is so rare that few hope for its attainment, and yet there is a region within every one of us, a deep lake of peace, out of which flows all that is excellent in our work and striving from it well, if we are music-makers, the harmonies and the binding together of sweet sounds. It is the abode of poetry, of rhapsodies of youth, of the hidden treasures of arts. It lies not within the reach of the will, nor will it succumb to force or gentle wooing, but excited mayhap, by some untoward event frighten with vagueness and struggle, of a sudden takes on shape and clothes itself in melody. 'Tis then rythm enters where lately there was discord. This is inspiration. This is creation. This gift Mr. Taylor had to an unusual degree. The children of his brain were his musical creations that were given to the worldand the world is the better that they were born—long may they live!"

Annual Literary Contest.

Dr. Louie Uselman, the most popular jeweler and optician on the South Side, will again make the hearts of two people joyous on Christmas by presenting two very valuable and handsome prizes. The occasion will be the annual essay contest at Bethel A. M. E. church, under the auspices of the Bethel Literary Society. It was through Mr. B. F. Fitts, president of the literary society, that the heart of Mr. Uselman was touched three years ago and the jeweler decided that each year he would present the best essay writers with prizes.

It has become an annual affair. It has done much more to encourage literary effort, to inspire young people to know more of their race, to make research and rub up against the best minds of Chicago than anything in the city.

The contest will be a week earlier this year than last. It will take place December 15, at 4 o'clock in the main auditorium of Bethel church. The subject is "The Part Played by the Negro Soldier in the Wars of the World." The following clubs have been invited to take part: The University Society, the Criterion society, the Negro Fellowship League, Sons of Mississippi, Standard Literary Club of Olivet Baptist church, Standard Literary of Bethseda church, Tuskegee Club and Bethel Literary Club.

Mr. Fitts, president of the Bethel Literary, will select five or seven of the most competent judges in the city. No one is to know who they are until time to render the decision. They will not sit together during the rendition of the essays, but in all parts of the house, quietly retire at the close and ren- decision on the pastor's parlor. will be no direct appeal to judges together, but the essayists will be judges upon merit only.

Dr. Uselman will give a diamond ring to the lady winning in the contest and a solid gold watch and chain to the man. Dr. Uselman has won many friends by his generosity.

Frontenac Club Thanksgiving Night.

The Frontenac Club, which has been giving balls on Thanksgiving night for ten years, will give another on this Thanksgiving at Central Hall, corner of Twenty-second street and Wabash avenue.

This will be the biggest ball of the season. Mr. Wm. Lewis, president of the club, states that no ball given in past years will equal this one in point of pleasure and "good time."

Pleasure seekers from Milwaukee, Aurora, Indianapolis, Louisville and Peoria and other places will be present. An orchestra of twenty pieces has been secured for the occasion and the Tonga dance and the other late dances will be danced on that evening.

Ladies' Auxiliary Dance.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Eighth regiment, Illinois National Guard, will give their fourth annual dance on Tuesday evening, November 19, at Union Masonic Hall, 3956 State street. The cards of admission are thirty-five cents. Those on the committee are Mesdames John R. Marshall, W. T. Jefferson, J. S. Nelson, J. H. Johnson, C. L. Hill, J. R. White, P. D. Arnett, S. A. McGowan, R. F. Ratcliffe, R. R. Jackson, L. B. Anderson, F. A. Denison, J. L. Fry, L. W. Lewis, B. F. Pinkney, S. A. Betts and Miss Essie Arnold, the daughter of the regiment. For a delightful evening's entertainment, the citizens of Chicago are urged to be present. There will be a splendid orchestra to furnish the music.

Returns to Boston.

Mrs. Josephine Green, of Boston, who has been in the city for several weeks, visiting her sister, Mrs. Maxwell, 3634 Forest avenue, returned to her home on Thursday of this week. Mrs. Green was highly entertained and was given quite a number of social affairs while here.

Ever since "Billy" Lewis has opened his cafe at 3517 State street, it has been patronized by the best people of tre city who care for amusement and entertainment. The appointments of the place have attracted people from all sections of the city and delicious menu, politeness of the waiters and the service given have made it "the place of Chicago."

The order and decorum is such that it makes one feel as though he were in a parlor with friends—a kind of a family circle. The fact, too, that Mr. Lewis treats his patrons with politeness and sees that they are satisfied, is the cause of him having such a good trade. But the principal feature of the cafe business, while he handles the sweetest beverages on the South Side, i sthe entertainers.

Nettie Lewis There.

One of the recent additions to the several entertainers is Miss Nettie Lewis. Of course there is Mr. Sam Patterson at the piano and he is the best in the city, if you don't believe it, hear him. Mr. William Able, a Kentucky product, and his "voice is as sweet as chocolate," and Walter Evans, who sings to the satisfaction of all, especially the ladies.

Miss Nettie Lewis, dainty and petite, sings sweeter than ever. She is remembered as first singing at Fifty-eighth and Lake streets, a singing parlor of Tenan Jones. She then went with Black Patti, was later at the Palm Garden, Twenty-seventh and State, the Pekin Stock Company, in 1895, then with the Trip to Coontown; in vaudeville, Netherwood, Prices and now at the Mineral Springs. She is well known and a favorite. She sings all the new songs and gets the applause. There is every indication that Mr. Lewis' business will be on the increase, for at the Mineral Springs can be heard the best music of any cafe in the city.

Mr. James A. Ross, editor of the Gazetteer and Guide of Buffalo, and the Detroit Informer, of Detroit, Mich., was in the city this week on political business. Mr. Ross was the chairman of the Western Colored Democratic headquarters in this city, and to him is given much of the credit for the "brother" dividing his vote in the western states. Mr. Ross will be the next recorder of deeds, is the report from the big politicians of this city.

Notes.

Hon. Edward D. Green and Major R. R. Jackson were defeated for legislature in the Democratic landslide. Many politicians have their suspicions for the cause of their defeat, as it was thought their election was a sure thing.

• • •

Mr. Thomas Swallace Swann is in the city. He is the guest of J. Gray Lucas. Mr. Swann was chief of the publicity department of the Democratic party in the East. He was given a banquet in New York recently by his political friends. Mr. Swann will be given a "big plum" at Washington or some foreign port.

• • •

The Danabagay will be held on November 19. Mr. Frank P. George has issued the program, which includes Mme. Lillian Lee Ingram, Mme. Annabelle Cook, Mrs. Ruby Coleman Fulton, Miss Reha Blunt, Mr. Junius H. Sayre, Mr. George C. Hall, Mr. Charles H. Young and Mr. George will impersonate the late Richard Mansfield in "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," as re-arranged by Miss St. Clair White, the noted violinist. The affair will be at Oakland Music Hall and will be followed with a dance.

• • •

Col. Roscoe Conkling Simmons writes us from Louisville that there is no place like "My Old Kentucky Home." He spoke at the Calvary Baptist church and is on a southern tour and will speak at Mound Bayou, Miss., on November 25.

• • •

Jack Johnson has secured the services ofof Attorney Edward H. Morris. It is conceded here that had he secured Mr. Morris early in the fight, he would have been out and not serving time in Cafe de Jail as one paper puts it. He has waited just a little too long to come back to his race.

• • •

Mr. W. H. Clark and Mr. L. A. Newby, two well-known Democrats, will give a jubilation banquet at an early date at the Baker hotel, 3312 Wabash avenue.

• • •

On Saturday evening of last week a banquet was given at Lewis' cafe in honor of James A. Ross, of Buffalo; Phil H. Brown, of Louisville, and Geo. W. Ellis, of this city. The three guests had distinguished themselves as heads of the three political parties and were honored by the presence of forty of the leading politicians of the city.

• • •

Miss Ruth Bogar, who has been out of the city for several weeks, will return home next week. Miss Bogar has been the recipient of many social affairs while on her Eastern visit.

The junior class of Howard University had a practical lesson in political history last Friday afternoon. By direction of Persident Newman the class assembled in Andrew Rankin chapel to hear the three leading political parties of the land explained to them by prominent members of each. Hon. James A. Fowler, assistant attorney-general of the United States, spoke for the Republican party. Dr. J. Milton Waldron, chairman of the Negro Progressive Democratic League, spoke of the necessity of a division of the Negro votes of the country. Frank J. Hogan, Progressive manager and national committeeman for the District of Columbia, spoke for the Bull Moose party. Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, president of the Woman's College of Law, spoke on suffrage for women. Other speakers were Prof. Kelly Miller, of the college of arts and sciences, and President Newman. M. M. Harris, of the junior class, introduced the speakers. The occasion was unique and highly enjoyable.

The War Department may appoint additional Filipinos as cadets in the West Point Military Academy. In 1907, the President recommended that congress authorize the appointment of seven young Filipinos, or one for every million inhabitants of the Philippine Islands, as cadets at West Point, but congress authorized the appointment of only four, one for each class at the academy. The first Filipino appointed as a cadet has reached his third year at West Point, and he may, under existing law, have his successor appointed this year, making the fifth Filipino to enter the academy. It may be that further authority will be granted to have additional Filipino cadets named. Nothing is being said, by tre way, about any movement to encourage Negroes to enter the academy to fit themselves for an advanced military career.

Mr. J. C. Cunningham, in a well-tempered letter, protests against the practice here of allowing day teachers in the public schools to teach also at night. He thinks the graduates of the Normal school should be given a chance to work in the night schools, and is of the opinion that when a teacher does his full duty during the day he or she cannot do justice to any class at night. They say the board is to tackle this subject soon, but realize that it is a "live wire."

Washingtonians are not permitting themselves to become excited over the "Jack Johnson case." They are "passing him up." They do not endorse the unholy efforts of a certain notoriety-seeking preacher to attract attention to himself by making a fuss over the matter. M. E. church....Mrs. Mildred Riley entertained, Sunday evening, a number of young people at her home on Champaign street....Salem Baptist church, corner of Fifth and Park streets, of which Rev. J. M. Owens is pastor, will hold its regulars services at 11 and 7:45 o'clock, and Sunday school will be conducted at 9 o'clock a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock....Mrs. Fanny Brown, our noted cateress, served the agricultural dance at the Armory Friday night, November 8. The 500 guests were served in less than an hour. The waiters deserve compliments. Mrs. Brown has been asked to bid on serving the Junior Prom, a large social function at the university, which is scheduled to be some time in the near future....The Springfield District Sunday School convention was held at Bethel. There was a very nice program rendered, and everyone was pleased with the session. Superintendent Earnest spoke on Sunday schools for men, women and children. So effective were his remarks that they will be used for future reference. The evening services were of a very high order, and those who took part have the unstinted praise of all present. District Superintendent Lee, in a neat and apropriate speech, introduced Prof. Bagley, of the University of Illinois, who said that the greatest problem facing us is the law of moral education. Step by step he pointed out the way to gain the best results from the child. He closed by reciting a story from observation on his trip on a cattle steamer, saying that he saw a person who had sailed the finest ship of the ocean, but had been reduced to the ranks. That person did not despair, but had started all over again. He said the moral was to forget the mistakes of the past and become master and captain of your own soul in the present. Those who attended were: Dr. Jamison, Decatur Sunday school; Mrs. Sylvia Lawrence. Decatur Sunday school; Mrs. W. C. King, Decatur Sunday school; Mr. Carl Watkins, Decatur Sunday school; Miss Lamont, Paris; Mrs. Wilson, Paris; Mrs. Stelles, Paris; Mrs. Wilson, Paris; Mrs. J. A. Shepherd.

CARD OF SYMPATHY.

Mrs. Minnie Force, 315 South Hancock street:

We wish to express our sympathy and sorrow in your late bereavement. The loss of our dear friend, Wm. Stillwell, caused a shock greater than words can describe and your home will be quite another place. The Master's voice, however, must be obeyed. Our hearts are lonely today, but in our saddest moments we have one happy thought—we will meet again some day. While he lies in peaceful sleep, his memory we shall always keep. Rube Foster's Dark Players Look the Part—Big Black Hope is Sure Some Hard Slugger—White Men Must Play to Beat the Brunnettes.

(By Harry A. Williams.
(In the Los Angeles Times.)

"Heah he comes!" This warning cry from Bruce Petway, a tall, saddle-colored individual, and there were unmistakable signs of action among the American Giants.

A mammoth figure had just emerged from the clubhouse, and was steaming ponderously across the outfield toward the home plate. It was "Rube" Foster, boss of the Giants and the Walter Johnson of the colored race. "Rube" had tarried uptown to allow a "picture man" to take a shot at him, and his men had beat him to the daily team practice at Jack Doyle's eminent domain. As a rule it takes some stretch of the imagination to liken a human being to a battleship, but if "Rube" Foster, ploughing up toward the home plate, a calabash pipe in his mouth and said mouth emitting as much smoke as an ocean liner, did not bear a close resemblance to the biggest dreadnought afloat, then I am "seeing things."

"Rube" was decked out in a brand new uniform of robin's-egg blue. Just why "Rube" selected this delicate tint is best known to himself. Probably he figured that it would accentuate his brunette beauty. If that was his object he succeeded beyond all expectation. Thus esthetically garbed, "Rube" loomed up like the only and original "cinder."

Bill Lindsay was pitching to Barber in batting practice, and Foster lingered behind him just long enough to tell him that he didn't have anything but a fair supply of nerve and a glove at that particular moment.

As usual, there was quite a delegation of darktown sports on hand to claim relationship of past acquaintance with "Rube." One of these finally ventured out near the plate. He was the sportiest of the sports. He was decked in an ecru-colored suit, and his flaming red cravat served as the background for a "rock" of questionable authenticity. He approached "Rube" with an air of deference, and for a time it seemed that his courage might ooze out, but it didn't.

"Mistah Foster, I'se mighty—"

Sport is Surprised.

"Theah's Mistah Fostah ovah Petway is so thin that he has to out Petway, the star catcher. Now, theah," interrupted "Rube," pointing stand three times in the same place to make a shadow. He is built along the lines of a corncob set up on a couple of knitting needles.

"Lawdy," ejaculated the sport with the cream-colored sartorial embellishments, "ain't 'Rube' a gettin' skinny. I sposed he was a regulah white hope. Con pone an'possum must be gittin' mighty skeerse heahabouts."

By this time Foster had taken his place at the plate, batting practice then being in progress. "Doan try any foolin' with me," remonstrated "Rube," as Bill Lindsay, who holds a decision over Brooklyn, sent up one which Foster thought did not have the right amount of "stuff" on it. The ball had a hop on it like a kangaroo, but it looked like a cream puff to "Rube" and he slammed it against the left field fence on a line.

"You tighten up, or I'se goin' to triple to right next time," warned Foster. Not liking the idea of anyone making two hits in a row off him, Lindsay did tighten up. Foster did hit the ball toward right, but Billy Munroe, the second baseman, backed up, shoveled it out of the tall grass with his left hand and sent it to first with an underhand snap. The entire operation was accompanied with an alarcity that would have discouraged the fleetest base-runner that ever tried to beat out an infield drive.

Munroe is a little bow-legged chap with a burnt sienna complexion. He covers a world of ground, and Foster seemed to take especial delight in giving him hard chances when it came to infield practice. First it was a grounder between shortstop and second base. Munroe mitted it. Then Foster sent him scampering back in to short right, where he retrieved a ball that looked for all the world like a safe hit. "Rube" continued to give Munroe hard chances until that able athlete, his breath in danger of failing him, rebelled. "Mistah Fostah, yo sho bettah read up on baseball," advised Munroe. "It am obvious that yo doan know wheah second base is.

Infield is Fast.

"Rube" good naturedly displayed his teeth and turned his attention to Fred Hutchinson, a pale-brown individual who plays shortstop, and who has a habit of "eatin' everything up" that comes his way. Hutchinson behaves like a saffron edition of Joe Berger, and overlooked nothing that entered hi sterritory or its environs. "Hutchinson to Munroe to Pierce," is a play which will appear frequently in the box scores of the Winter League. This trio operated yesterday in a manner eloquent of double plays.

Pierce, at first base, is a large strong individual, with considerable complexion. "Ham" Patterson hasn't anything on him when it comes to playing the A bag. Pierce also acts as change catcher, and when he is serving in that capacity, Parks presides at first base. Parks, being versatile, is the handy man of the club. With him on the job and any of the regulars crippled, the team can continue to wag.

"Ebryting looks like chicken to dat tar baby," yelled a lounger in a voice that rose above the Afro-American chatter in the grand stand when Jimm yTaylor, third baseman, gloved a low one and whipped it back to the plate. Petway touched out an imaginary base-runner and shot the ball to Munroe. "Big Chief" Meyers never made a prettier peg in his whole life. It is doubtful whether any man, white or black, can get a ball to second with more speed and precision than the tall and angular Mr. Petway. For several winters he has been playing against big league teams in Cuba.

All this time, Parks was backing the outfielders to the fence with long fly balls. Frank Duncan, the left-fielder, is a tall, dark individual with considerable native ability and a mournful drooping in the right leg of his bloomers. Mr. P. Hill, the center-fielder, is famous for his ability to hit the ball. Give him Tris Speaker's complexion, and there would be nothing to it but Hill. Barber, in right field, is a great judge of fly-balls. It is beneath his dignity to hurry. He doesn't need to. He knows where they are coming, and that is enough.

Some Spitters.

All this time, Lewis Johnson, Will Gatewood and Charles ("Pat") Dougherty were warming up on the sidelines. Johnson is a "spitball" artist, and claims to have humbled Cincinnati with his moisture. Gatewood also is a "spitballer." Dougherty is the sole southpaw on Foster's pay roll. "Pat" gained fame by holding the Chicago Cubs to one hit in a post-season game.

The Giants look like a real ball team in practice, and there will be a flood of darktown coin to back them to win the Winter League race, which will open here Friday with the McCormicks opposed to "Rube" Foster's beauties.

NEGRO CHAMP IN JAIL.

Lands in Cell With Friend Who Had Attempted Perjury to Obtain Release.

CHICAGO.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, occupied a cell in the county jail, due to his failure to furnish a $30,000 bond for his release on a charge of violating the Mann act.

As he left the Federal Building, handcuffed to Deputy Marshal Edward Northrop, after a futile plea to not have his wrist manacled, Johnson seemed greatly dejected, but said nothing.

In his extended fight for bond, Johnson shed tears, pleaded, offered cash bond in almost any amount and employed two attorneys, David Backrach and Edward Morris, in an effort to obtain his release.

Three prospective bondsmen failed to qualify, and one of them, A. C. Jones, was sent to jail after he had failed to obtain a bond for $10,000 for his appearance in court next Monday to answer a charge of contempt, which was lodged against him by the court when he attempted to schedule property said to belong to his wife.

Tony May, another prospective bondsman, was ordered out of court because he gave answers to questions which the court considered untruthful.

Pleads for Release.

"Give cash bond in any amount, but for goodness' sake keep me out of jail," Johnson pleaded with his attorneys.

Both District Attorney Wilkerson and Judge Landis refused to consider a cash bond.

"An unparalleled attempt to swindle this court by offering unqualified bondsmen has been made," said Judge Landis. "I will not consider a cash bond."

Mr. Wilkerson said he understood that Johnson intended to leave this country on November 30 if he obtained his release. The offense with which Johnson is charged is not subject to extradition. District Attorney Wilkerson said he intended to put Johnson on trial as soon as possible.

Several other charges against Johnson are to be investigated by the grand jury, it was said.

Catherine Dorsey, at whose home the young white girl, Lucile Cameron, lived for several weeks, was arrested this afternoon. She had been hiding in a barn for three weeks. She was held under a $1,000 bond as a witness in the Johnson case and also was remanded to the marshal's custody.

Knocks Photographer Down.

At the jail door Edward F. Wiegle, a newspaper photographer, attempted to take a flashlight picture of Johnson and the pugilist knocked him down with a heavy cane.

"You can't take a picture of me," shouted Johnson.

Deputy marshals interfered and Johnson was hurried into the jail. There he was forced to remove all of his clothing, which was subjected to a careful search. Johnson was assigned to a cell in an upper tier. Immediately he objected to the location. He was told he would have to take what was given him in jail.

"I want a dozen candles so I can have more light, a box of cigars and a case of champagne," Johnson demanded.

"You can't have them," he was told.

"You're not as accommodating as they were in San Francisco," Johnson replied. "I got everything I wanted there."

Finally, Johnson asked for a bottle of milk and this was given him.

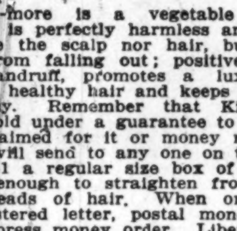
STRAIGHTEN YOUR HAIR



Not with hot irons. But do it with Kink-no-more, the greatest hair straightening preparation on earth. Kink-no-more will straighten the kinkiest kind of hair. Think about it—a preparation that all you have to do is apply it on the hair, and, with a little combing, the hair becomes straight, not to stay for one day or one week, but to last from six to eight months. Water nor nothing else will make it kink again after it has been straightened. Kink-no-more is a wonder worker. So marvelous does it do its work that one can hardly believe their own eyes. It works like magic and is unique because there is not another preparation in the world like it. We offer a reward of $100 for any head of hair that Kink-no-more will not straighten.

Kink-no-more is a vegetable compound; it is perfectly harmless and will not injure the scalp nor hair, but will stop it from falling out; positively removes dandruff, promotes a luxuriant growth of healthy hair and keeps it soft and glossy. Remember that Kink-no-more is sold under a guarantee to do all that is claimed for it or money refunded. We will send to any one on the receipt of $1 a regular size box of Kink-no-more, enough to straighten from one to two heads of hair. When ordering send registered letter, postal money order or express money order. Liberal inducements offered to agents. Write today for special terms. Inclose 2-cent stamp for reply. READ THE WORDS OF OTHERS

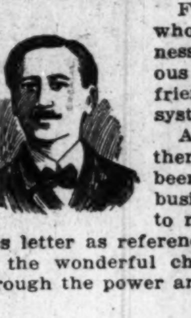
Gentlemen:

I cannot begin to tell you all the benefits I have received since the arrival of the two specimens of Loadstones you sent me.



For many years I was convinced that no person lived who was more unfortunate than myself. Loss in business; death of loved ones and other troubles too numerous to mention, were driving me to a state of frenzy. A friend told me to write you for information regarding the system of two Loadstones and their power.

As a last resort I did so, and later purchased two of them. Since then the great change in my career has been so remarkable as to be almost beyond belief. My business increased rapidly, and not a thing has occurred to mar my state of happiness. You are at liberty to use this letter as reference, for I believe it is my duty to let the world know of the wonderful change in my life, that I believe was brought about through the power and influence of two Loadstones.

Frank. Temey.
Babylon, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:

Several weeks ago I foolishly laid the chamois bag containing the two Loadstones on the dresser and forgot them. Trouble began as of old; my husband was fretful and finding fault with everything. I was all out of sorts myself and wondered what had happened to cause so much discord all at once. Finally I remembered the Loadstones and began to search for them. A few days later I found them tucked away in my machine drawer where one of the children had put them. Now everything, as far as I am concerned, is moving along nicely, but my husband, who laughed when the Loadstones first arrived, has changed his tune, and has sent you an order for a pair for himself.

SATURDAY, NOV 16, 1912.

The Republican Negro office holders are pretty well fixed anyhow.

It begins to look as if the colored brother will have pretty fair sailing with the new administration.

The G. O. P. is not nearly dead. Signs are in evidence that it will rise from its "ashes" more resplendent than ever.

If the ten-cent stores sold food as cheaply as they do everything else, the poor people's problem would be at last solved.

Thanksgiving Day has been proclaimed. Keep the event in mind if you expect to live up to that day's reputation.

Evidently the Cleveland (Ohio) friends of Jack Johnson also think they are rubbing it in on him at Chicago. They promise to furnish bond in the sum of $100,000, giving the kind of security "denominated" by the court.

The Democratic colored brethren will not have the same difficulty in getting to the pie counter as the Republican colored brethren have had. They will be persistent enough all right, but their number is small, so the allotted amount may give satisfaction.

The Bulgars et al. are thundering at the gates of Constantinople. Turkey is dealing direct with the enemy for an armistice. It may mean that the king of the Bulgarians will not find it necessary to treat with the Turk in the Turk's capital, as he recently declared.

There's no sense in Brother Vardaman or any of the other Southern brothers coming up to Washington with any Negro elimination measures. We hope the thing will never be heard of again. Aain't there enough to be glad about without botherin' after us "poah" colored folks?

The police made a big catch last Monday night of the boys who toil not. Every now and then the Avenue—Indiana Avenue—grows a little thick with a class of folks who seem to have too much leisure. At such times the police are noted for their activity. They are given to making sudden swoops, in which they are more or less successful. The catch last Monday night was considered rather good sized. The boys pleaded not guilty in court. The judge simply smiled. The boys will have to get good.

There are many men that are of a poor condition, and who are not responsible for it. Some have been unjustly reduced in their affairs by sources the most unexpected. Even the courts, the very palladium of justice, have been known to unjustly strip men back to nothing. Good, earnest, hard-working politicians have seen themselves outclassed and distanced by others less worthy than themselves. But these are only the incidents of the train of progress, and expected since the world began. Yet these are the ones that give strength to causes of the kind led by Mr. Roosevelt. Revenge is stronger, more persistent than love. Mr. Roosevelt was the high priest of the cult which was glad enough of the illustrious leadership.

John Schrank, who shot Theodore Roosevelt, in pleading guilty to the charge in court at Milwaukee, tried to distinguish between an assault on Roosevelt as a menace and an attack on Roosevelt as a citizen. He said:

"I did not mean to kill a citizen. I shot Theodore Roosevelt because he was a menace to the country. He should not have a third term. It is bad that a man should have a third term. I did not want him to have one. I shot him as a warning that men must not try to have more than two terms as President. I shot Theodore Roosevelt to kill him. I think all men trying to keep themselves in office should be killed; they become dangerous. I did not do it because he was a candidate of the Progressive party, either, gentlemen."

It is not very likely that the court will recognize the fine distinction made by Mr. Schrank.

THE REAL PROGRESSIVE PARTY.

The Progressive party leaders evince considerable elation because of the large vote given Mr. Roosevelt, holding that it signifies the progress of the new party, when in fact the vote was not wholesome, healthily large, but abnormal, unhealthily large. It will not stand up under the true tests as to what makes for party progress in the sense of permanency. There were indeed many honest thousands who thought to see relief from their notions of political ills in the new party movement. But vastly more thousands saw the movement as an opportunity to pay old scores—to get back at the old parties, the Republican party especially, for failing to come through according as they would have them do. These had no Utopian dreams of a nation's betterment; they were the discontents, the sore, the left-overs of the years, but who had had no opportunity to strike in the name of personal revenge.

It is natural enough that in time there would be those who from various causes would break with their parties. Good, earnest political workers have seen those less efficient than themselves, less worthy, pass on to rewards, while they grew old waiting for their turn—listening for the call that was never sounded. Even that model citizen Brutus was finally convinced that something was being put over him; he swerved from his plumb of political probity—for the good of the state—joined the throng of malcontents, ending in their work at the base of Pompey's Pillar. Many a citizen has finally turned Brutus after brooding over defeats and disappointments. These eagerly embraced the opportunity, in this case, succeeding in bringing down the Republican party, saying, peradventure, that they did not love the party less, but the country more. This burst of "patriotism" was influenced by the same things in Cæsar's time. Men were defeated and crushed; the years rolled up their great accumulations as they have done in our times. This, then as now, is but an illustration of the ways of civilization, where competition is the word in all things, the crushed and defeated being merely the incidents.

Then the hero worshipers are to be reckoned with—the too ephemeral who are influenced by the magic of a name rather than the efficacy of ministrations emanating from orderly, thoughtful government void of the spectacular with its doubtful consequences.

When these various elements are stricken out, including those swayed by the merely what's in it, the Progressive party will resemble a yesterday's banquet. The disappointed are no more hopeful, the sun of heroism as it concerns our political affairs is in eclipse, the mere mercenary has found that the Midas touch has lost its cunning. The great vote, we think, has resolved to its original elements, and without the power of remobilizing.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON LEADS THE WORLD.

Dr. J. W. Barrett, member of the board of governors, University of Melbourne, Australia, in an article which recently appeared in the Melbourne Argus, states: "It really looks as if he (Booker T. Washington) had led the world from the educational point of view."

JACK JOHNSON AND THE COURTS.

We are not sufficiently on to the kinks of the law to appreciate the difference between a cash bond of $40,000 and one of securities to that amount, It seems to us that they are pushing Jack Johnson too hard in the matter of his bond. The law, the court in this instance, seems to have taken on individual qualities, pursuing the champion in a way not warranted by the custom of courts.

We have opposed and abused Jack Johnson quite as much as anyone else as it concerns his relations with white women. But at that we have not forgotten that the baffled and beaten champion has some rights; not more than other men, but as many. We can not see that it is up to the law or court to see that Jack Johnson does not get Lucile Cameron, as much as we are opposed to it. We oppose it not as a thing of right and wrong, but as a matter of sentiment, knowing the general opposition to mixed relations and the possible bad effect on society as it is now constituted. We are opposed to the Johnson-Cameron mix-up, knowing what it means for the woman in the end. We are opposed to it because of the vast difference between the races from the viewpoint of race types, viewing this, however, from the white man's side, and seeing it as he sees it—sympathetically.

With all this opposition, and which we think is generally shared by the race, we are nothing with a court that is too readily influenced by sentiment growing out of racial feelings. The recall of judges is suggested by such cases—judges becoming prosecutors, persecutors, and all the rest of it. Johnson has no right to work past punishment if guilty as charged. It will strike the average observer, however, that he might walk around enjoying his freedom if he can pay for it, just as other men do.

PEORIA, ILL.

Rev. S. B. Jones, the newly appointed minister of Ward's chapel, A. M. E. church, has moved into the parsonage, where are visitors are welcome....Mr. George Eubanks, one of Peoria's oldest citizens, was drowned last Saturday evening in the Illinois river. His body was recovered in a few minutes after the drowning. The funeral was held from the Baptist church at 3:00 o'clock p. m., November 5....Miss B. Thompson, of the Country Club, who has been sick for some weeks past, is some better....Mrs. I. C. Harper's health is much improved at this writing....Mrs. H. F. K. of P. vs. High School at Football—Negroes in Business Do Not Advertise Here—Enough—Improvement Needed to Help All.

Special to THE FREEMAN.

Football is now claiming the attention of the sporting public in this community. There is a move on foot to have a game played between the K. of P. and high school squads on Thanksgiving day. This should be a great attraction if the weather is favorable.... If the members of the race would try to obliterate some of the crimes that are daily laid to Negroes of this state, there would be a better feeling between the white and colored people. One of the best methods to follow in this matter is to assist in the enforcement of the laws of the state and city. Although there are many crimes laid at the door of race members of which they are not guilty, there is, on the other hand, a disrespect for the law on the part of some colored people. These violators should be encouraged to do better, and if this fails, then they should be summarily dealt with by the law. A sad state of affairs often exists in the public places by certain characters not obeying the laws, and by the lack of confidence by the better class of people in the more unfortunate ones of the race. The criminal is not so much to be blamed as he is to be pittied, for in a large number of cases crime is a disease, as it were, more than it is a disregard for the rights of others. Good christian influence will oftentimes have a better effect on some criminals than harse treatment. But where one is of obstinate character, and resists all the friendly services of those who are interested in the uplift of the race, he or she should be dealt with in a manner that will teach them that the law is superior to all else in this state, and also set an example for others who may be of the same turn of mind. Let us all strive for the betterment of the race. ....Mrs. Bettie Ward left for St. Louis this week, to bring back her daughter, who is reported to be ill in that city. ....Great credit is due to members of the race who are trying to promote colored business enterprises; and they, in all respects, should receive the support of every loyal Negro in the state. If we do not help our selves as a race, how can we expect assistance from the white people? Although it is better for us to be independent in all matters pertaining to our own welfare, yet there are friendly white people who can and are of great assistance to the race. Put your shoulder to the wheel of progress and boost your own business men in all lines of endeavor. We have colored millinery stores, drug stores, grocery stores and other branches of commercial enterprise that are a credit to the race. It is our duty to support these above all others. Yet there are members of the race who never think of patronizing a colored business man. This is either a wrong spirit or a wanton neglect on your part....Mr. W. C. Haynes recently opened a fruit stand and confectionery on Central avenue, between Bryon and Montezuma streets....Mr. Billie George has redecorated the interior of his place on Deep Elm. You are invited to call and see him....Mr. Jack Duty, the horseshoer and repairman, can be found at 309 North Walton street....Cafe de Monroe, for good things to eat when you are hungry. It will be found in Deep Elm....The Shataqua keeps home-cooked foods and serves good meals every day. ....See Ellis Willis, Hope Steve, Alf Brown, Lacy and Jake Ward for wet goods....If you want to ride, call on Elihu Mason and Nathaniel Starks.... Dr. Charles Morgan, of McKinney, was here a few hours last week, en route to the Medical Association convention in Waco. Nearly all of our colored physicians of this city were in attendance at the sessions, and report a most successful meeting....A large number of the citizens of Dallas went to Waco last Sunday and all enjoyed themselves to the highest extent....Much sickness is reported in the city, and there have been several deaths and some births in the past few days....Better home-buying is the slogan of the people. Investment in Dallis real estate is a good thing for the man who wishes to accumulate a little for himself. Owning one's own home is a great incentive to better citizenship....An order of bootblacks has been organized here and chartered under the laws of the state, and will be known as the Order of Bootblacks. The organization took place at Bandboys' new hall, corner of Main and Hawkins streets. This hall is an admirable place for such meetings, as there are plenty of seats and other accommodations. Help this good move along all you can....The young men of the Purloin Club entertained their guests at Bandboys' hall last Thursday night. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. The leading features were dancing and games. Refreshments were served. The festivities lasted until the early morning hours, and all left the hall to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home".... ....Mrs. Annie Walker is here from Seattle, Wash., and contemplates making this city her home....Eat with Frierson & Nick, located on Jackson street. ....It pays to advertise, Mr. Business Man, if you wish the people to know what you are doing. By advertising you keep the people informed of what you have to sell, and thus your business grows, and a customer thus attracted to your store will tell others, and will thus be of much assistance to you....Play safe and keep the Freeman in your home and business place.

State Federation of Women's Clubs to Meet at Danville—Dancing Class Opened for the Session—The Misses Cox Give Swell Reception—Al G. Fields Coming to the Capital Theater—State Normal "Skins" Paris in Football at Their Home.

By Hardin Tolbert, at People's Pharmacy—Both Phones 666; Box 233.

Special to THE FREEMAN.

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The State Federation of Colored Women, which has made a sacrifice of time and money for the welfare of the race in general, will meet at Danville, Ky., on the Saturday following Thanksgiving. The meeting will be one of great interest, for it will bring before the people those who are doing something worth while for the betterment of the race in this section of our great commonwealth. The efforts of this grand organization extend to the out-of-way districts as well as to the cities, as these districts are not so accessible to the better conditions of life in some respects, owing, to their locations. Every club that has a spark of race pride should make it their business to send a representative. Frankfort, no doubt, will send the largest body of representatives of any city in the state. Mrs. M. B. Jackson and Mrs. Tobitha Anderson and many other energetic workers are using every effort to push the work in this city and anywhere else that it seems profitable to do so. The clubs of this city are all busy getting ready to go to Danville.

Mrs. Susie Daniel, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of this city, was called to her last reward at the age of eighty-seven years, at her residence on Mero street. The funeral services were conducted at the A. M. E. church by Rev. D. C. Carter. A large number of friends paid their last tribute of respect to this estimable lady.

Mr. M. Ellis has been very ill for a few weeks, but is able to get out again.

The Winrer Dancing School will be opened Saturday afternoon at the Odd Fellows' hall. This will be the first sesion of this new enterprise, and should receive the patronage of those interested in this line of work. This will start the ball to rolling for the pleasure seekers, and is expected to add much to the social side of affairs in our city. The terpsichorean artists are James H. Huddleson, Leslie Smith, Sylvester Shelton and J. B. Harris. On Monday, November 18, there will be a swell dance given by these gentlemen.

• • •

Misses Mary, Laura and Bessie Cox were the hostesses of a beautiful reception at their cozy residence in Wilkerson street, in honor of Misses Carrie Henrick, of New York, and Sydney Morris, of Louisville, both very attractive young ladies. The house was very artistically decorated. Many flowers and ferns lent their sweet fragrance as a welcome to the guests. The dining room was arranged in a lovely manner. A six-course menu was most exquisitely served to the guests, and a jolly evening was spent by those present. The ladies all wore beautiful velvet gowns, and the gentlemen were atired in evening dress suits. Those present beside the ladies above mentioned were: Messrs. Fisher, of Beattysville; William Brown, the pianist, and Joe Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Slaughters, of Lexington, were in the city this week, the guests of Mr. Lewis Twyman, who has been sick for a few days.

Mr. W. M. Alexander, national grand master of the Mosiac Templars of America, whose headquarters are at Little Rock, Ark., lectured at the First Baptist church and was introduced by Mr. M. H. Harrison, state grand master. A large audience was present. A reception was given at the home of Mrs. T. L. Brooks in his honor.

Miss Lucy Edmond, of Louisville, is the guest of Mrs. Laura Mayes this week.

• • •

Miss Sylvester Buckner left for Paris this week.

• • •

Mrs. James Brown is spending a few days in Louisville, the guest of Mrs. Callery, 613 East Hill street.

• • •

The K. N. and I. I. had a walkaway in a football game with Paris at their home grounds.

• • •

A large crowd attended the dance at the Odd Fellows' hall.

• • •

There are some splendid offerings at Frankfort's motion picture houses. The Capital theater continues to draw good patronage. The management of this theater is to be complimented for the splendid program of last week, which was interspersed with acrobatic and novelty acts equal to any seen in the large cities. The program this week is an exceptionally good one, and proves that Manager Perkins is untiring in his efforts to give his patrons the best at all times. The motion pictures at this house are always the very best, and the performers at this house are as good as any in the profession. Several good attractions are billed for the near future for our people, among which may be mentioned our old-time favorite, Al G. Fields, December 3; "Mutt and Jeff," and other big attractions, mention of which will be made in this column.

• • •

The Aid Society of the Corinthian Baptist church met with Miss Marie Ellis this week. The members were much elated over their successful gathering, and much work was contemplated for the future. The following delegates were elected to the State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, at Danville: Mrs. M. B. Jackson, Miss Selena Mayo, Mrs. Mary Robinson and Mrs. Maggie Smith. Mrs. M. B. Jackson is president of the Aid Society.

• • •

Rev. W. D. Page, of Lexington, was in the city on business this week.

• • •

Miss Sarah Greene is able to be up again after a few days' illness.

• • •

Mr. M. B. Cook, of Lexington, with his rheumatism cure, was in the city a few days this week. See the writer concerning Mr. Cook or his goods. Mr. Cook left for Jellaco, Tenn.; Bourbesville, Pinesville and Middlesburg.

• • •

The Economic Club, of which Mrs. M. B. Jackson is president, met at the home of Mrs. A. M. Coleman. A very interesting afternoon was spent by the women, and delegates to the State Federation were elected as follows: Misses Mamie Woolfork and Katie Willis.

• • •

The executive board of parents and teachers, of which Mrs. M. B. Jackson is chairman, met at Mrs. Jackson's residence to arrange a program to be rendered at one of the churches. All those interested in the welfare and uplift of the young of our city are requested to be present.

• • •

Miss Mary W. Johnson and Mrs. Bessie Anderson spent Sunday in Lexington, the guests of Mrs. William Covington.

• • •

Mr. John G. Ray and Miss Estella Martin will be married November 28 at the residence of Mrs. Charles Wells on Washington street.

• • •

Mrs. Sylvester, of Columbus, Ohio, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Mary Davis.

• • •

Mr. Jerry Riley, janitor at the First Baptist church, is very ill.

• • •

Miss Dora Dodson, is very ill with Mrs. Eugena Stone left for Georgetown to be the guest of Mrs. John Stone for a few days.

THE DIXIE THEATER, AKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.

The Dixie is in bloom this week, offering all stars. The bill for this week was a hot one, every night being a big one. Drake and Billingsley, in their high-class sketch, went some, four encores nightly, making a complete change in costumes for each song. Little Hazel Smith is setting everybody crazy with her singing and dancing. She's small, but she's roared here. Mr. E. Whitman, our stage manager, is staging all new acts and they are going fine. The Dixie quartette is also setting them wild. Mr. Al Edwards, the famous bass songster, leaves them screaming. Charletta is still holding the big crowds between shows with that rag, "Tickling Sadie." The happy Dixie bunch sends good luck to The Freeman because it giveth us luck.

NOTES FROM JOHNNY J. JONES' EXPOSITION SHOWS.

We had the pleasure of meeting the Buffalo Bill bunch in Columbia, S. C., on the 30th, ult., their closing performance, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The Dixie land show still pleases the patrons, and our tent is crowded from stage to the door at each performance. R. J. Anderson (Captain Dixie) sends best wishes to all professional friends. We now carry twenty-seven people and all are well and trying to go above the other, consequently that means a good, first-class performance to the patrons, and our manager is all smiles nightly. Steady work has taken the place of sickness, not hard but good.

CONCERNING THE CLEVELAND, O., THEATERS.

The Dudley Duo played at the Alpha theater. Their act was cancelled after the first show. Meant well, but could not deliver the goods.

Pauline Crampton is playing stock at Oriole theater, O. J. Harris, manager. She is now in her third week.

Brown and Brown, Winbush, Marie Hall, Charles Wood, Buddy Butler constitute the company and are making good, leaving the house in a scream. The S. R. O. sign out at every performance.

PARK THEATER, DALLAS, TEX.

We are still playing to crowded houses, and Mr. Ver. A. Adams, our stage manager and producer, is getting complimented daily for producing such nice, clean, up-to-date shows with so much comedy. The team of Boyd and Boyd opened here last Monday night and made quite a hit. Mr. Boyd is one of Dallas' favorites. The team of Sanford and Overstreet scored a hit with their neat and clever singing and dancing act. Lovie Wightman, our famous comedian, wrote the lyrics for a new song, entitled "Never Let the Same Gal Sting You Twice. Vera. A. Adams arranged the music and it was certainly a scream. Miss Maud Cook, one of Dallas' favorite girls, appeared last Thursday night for the first time and she and Wigrtman took the house by storm, singing "Lovie Dear." Their wardrobe was grand. Miss Ada A. Greer has started every man, woman and child singing "All Night Long." It seems as though people never get tired of hearing it. Our concert orchestra cannot be beat. They play from standard overtures down to the Monkey Rag. Oh, you orchestra. Mr. Chester Johnson keeps things running smooth on the front end. Ver. A. Adams sends best regards to all friends, especially Billie King, the prince. The Park theater boasts of having more Freeman readers than any other colored theater in the state.

NOTES FROM THE SAVOY THEATER, CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

The bill this week is considered by the manager and the public to be one of the strongest bills since the opening of this popular playhouse. The Pattersons got theirs as far as applause is concerned. Miss Idella Redmond and Picks in a clever act pleased and left them asking for more. White and White, the contortionist and the soubrette, delivered the goods in pleasing packages. Miss Tressie Legg retains her popularity as only Tressie can, for it seems that the audience never tires of her, for she is one soubrette who knows how to please her audience without tiring them. Daniels and Daniels are really headliners in their line and have got them all guessing as to which one of their acts is the best. Cox Redmond and Coffey put over one of the best acts seen in Chattanooga since there have been vaudeville here, opening with "Where the Shannon River Flows," for which they had to respond to several encores. C. H. Coffey as a straight man displayed his ability as a character man. Little Jimmie Cox certainly did haul off in the character of Aunt Chloe. Jimmie did the wench part as only Jimmie Cox can do a black face character. The act entitled "The Old Family Nurse" was written by Mr. Cox and is really a masterpiece. "Where the River Shannon Flows," as sang by Rebecca Redmond, will make any song popular she chooses to use in the future. The act closed with "I Want to Go Back to Georgia," by Cox, assisted by Redmond and Coffey. Watch this little house, as it is getting more popular every day.

Perry and Perry will open at the Dixie theater, Macon, Ga., for a three weeks' stay. They don't think very much of some of their past stands, where they say you must come across with the suggestive, or else—

Miss India B. Allen, after closing week of October 21, at Daly's theater, Baltimore, Md., and week of 27 at Pastime theater, same city, is back home. She sends regards to all friends in and out of the profession. Rose Brown, write, 618 Church street, Norfolk, Va.

Chas. Anderson, speaking of the S. H. Dudley circuit, says that it is one delightful trip. The managers at each theater treat the performers fine. Good board to be had at moderate cost. Manager Lew Henry of the S. H. Dudley theater, Washington, D. C., Mr. Anderson says, is one of the finest.

Some little ladies who are decided hits: Florence McClain, Hester Kenton, Rosa Motley. These are all young people. Rosa Motley is the youngest, and about two years old on the stage. Florence McClain is in her second year. Hester Kenton graduated from the pick class, although doing pick at this time. As an all around performer she's as good as they get to be.

"A Honolulu Coon" is the name of another colored musical comedy launched this season by Mr. J. I. Harper, of Louisville, formerly of Chicago. The play made such a hit at a special matinee performance last Sunday that Mr. Harper at once took the road, and plays Bloomfield, Bardstown and Springfield, Ky., with good success. The company is booked for West Baden, Ind., November 17; Salem, 18; Mitchell, 19; Bedford, 20; Bloomington, 21, and Indianapolis to follow. The cast is composed of well known professionals: Edwards and Edwards, Clark and Taylor, Kid Carle, Chas. Bridget, John Page, Al. H. Graham, Eugene Clark and a line of eight chorus girls, all the prettiest on the road. The matinee was witnessed by Frank Montgomery and wife, who came to the stage after the performance and complimented each for their good work. Open time is solicited. Mr. Harper can be reached at any of the above dates, or address 1302 West Madison street, Louisville, Ky.

New Show Pleases Audience—A Big Comedy Bill from Start to Finish—Each Act Hands Out Something New and Causes Much Merriment—The Crown Show This Week Is the Laughing Show of the Season.

Stone and Stone

Open up the battery of fun with something new and original. Their playlet brings out many funny scenes and sayings, which really happen in everyday life. Their songs are well fitted to the plot of their playlet. Miss Stone, in the character of a washwoman, who's daily labor supports her do-nothing husband, was real natural and well acted. Mr. Stone, as the do-nothing husband, brought about many funny situations, which always ended in a big laugh. The Stones offered a good, clean act, filled with humor.

Colman L. Minor,

All alone, telling new stories and singing new songs, brought the house down. Minor's jokes were all clean and well told. At no time during the twelve minutes he was before the audience did they tire of him. He started things off with a hum and kept it up until the finish. Mr. Minor, when last seen in Indianapolis, worked the Union as a team, but this time he is all alone, and making good just the same.

Kelly and Kelly

Offer a new sort in the way of a talking act. In every line of their talk there is a laugh. And the laughs grow until the entire audience seems to be in a fit of laughter. Miss Kelly dresses well and has a fine stage appearance. Mr. Kelly is a number one good singing comedian, and the two together in a dialogue of witty sayings such as they have, there is no audience that could keep from laughing.

Mills and Tanzel

Know how and did get all that was coming to them. Not one moment did they allow the audience to cease laughing during the entire fifteen minutes they were on. Each song that the pair sang was a riot. Everyone knows how good Billy Mills is as a comedian, and how clever Miss Tansel is as a soubrette. They are the one big noise. So should you ever see the names of Mills and Tanzel, you will know Dat Am It—The Big Noise.

The Crown orchestra is worth the price of admission alone. They play some music al lthe time.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Lincoln Theater, 58 West 135th St.

Well, the Lincoln theater has lost two of the greatest stock producers in the business, Williams and Stevens. They closed at this theater November 3rd. Monday's bill opened with Madam Mullen. This lady is quite a favorite here and is some singer. The Lees came next and went big. Miss Ora Chriswell went bigger on her return date than when here two weeks ago.

The Family Theater, 37th and 8th Ave.

Opened Monday with Delaney and Brooks, a new team, but clever. Miss Brooks is a charming little soubrette and a sweet singer. Delaney is a very clever dancer. They went big. Davis and Rector followed them and cleaned up. Miss Anita Bush and her girls closed the bill and they closed it. This is one of the best acts playing this house in months.

We understand that Miss Ora Chriswell and Miss Laura Bailey, of the Cubanola Trio, have joined hands and will be known as Bailey and Chriswell. They are two very clever people, and we wish them success.

Williams and Stevens this week at the City theater, New York City.

The Hollidays, Budie and Estell open next week on the United time.

THE DIXIE THEATER, NEW BERNE, NORTH CAROLINA.

The New Dixie is still packing them nightly. Lone and Lone just closed two successful weeks, and the New Berne people will be glad to see them return. Arnet and Arnet just closed a successful engagement. The holdover from last week is Miss Maggie Dixon. Mr. Zeb Managant is also a holdover. Miss Dixon is one of the best clean performers on the vaudeville stage today and has taken from three to four encores nightly. Mr. Managant is in his fourth week and is still screaming them.

The Moores, Chintz and Ella; T. Spencer Fensley and Joe Johnson, the great buck dancer, opened the week of the 10th and received the glad hand, as they are all good performers.

The Whitman Sisters will follow the week of the 18th, and they are the talk of the town already.

The Dixie is one of the best houses in the country, and any clean act will find an appreciative audience at the Dixie.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC

CHICAGO WEEKLY REVIEW

By Sylvester Russell

The Pekin Theater Opens Under Colored Management in Musical Comedy—The Kissing Trust Draws Full Houses.

The Pekin theater opened on November 10, under the local management of Art. C. Harris, the colored artist, who has now taken the management of the theater. The attraction was Sidney L. Perrin, in "The Kissing Trust," which scored a success, owing to the well-known ability of the star. The people in the cast who won favor besides Mr. Perrin, were Joe Russell, Henry Saparo, Arthur Foster, Billy Starks, Goldie Crosby and Mabel Gant. Two performances are given nightly on the same plan as at the Grand theater. The theater is hired on a sharing basis, and now that the management and all the performers are colored and of recognized ability, the colored people should again support the house liberally. Next week a new comedy will be produced.

Bond Morse at the Grand—Bessie La Belle and Lucretia Lawson Stop the Show on the Last Half.

There was something a little too clever for a State street audience, when Bond Morse, one of the cleverest joke comedians who ever visited the South Side, came upon the stage. All of his goods were clean cut and far above the average, so far that only witty people could conceive them. Other people on the bill were Carroll Keating and Dyer, two funny rubes and a mezzo singer. The DeGray comedy quartette was quite entertaining and Beck and Henry played a return and danced to satisfaction. The second half of last week had another strong bill. The chief attraction was Bessie La Belle and Lucretia Lawson in a new singing specialty which stopped the show. The two singers were in better voice than at any time heretofore heard on the stroll. They are truly great singers and their act would go strongly on the big time. Lillian Mortimer, in "White Trash Jimmy," was one of the best vaudeville comedy dramas ever seen in the Grand. Allman and Nevins were good, the Lucifers, acrobats, were great, and Bert Shepherd, the whip artist, was perfectly entertaining.

Emmett Anthony at the Monogram.

The most entertaining feature of the week at the Monogram, was Emmett Anthony, a droll comedian, whose methods are original, and as a fu nproducer is an easy victor. His artificial big mouth "make-up" was comical to the extreme, especially in the rendering of his own two masterpiece songs, "Who's Who," and "Dinner is Ready." The Green Trio made its first appearance in a new form, with Eloise Johnson in the place of Mrs. Green, who scored immensely in her ragtime song. Mr. Green did good vocal work in a love scene duett with Miss Johnson. And Master Pugh made a big hit in "That's Why They Call Me Shine" and his dancing was nimble, but his exit should not be eccentric. The act itself only qualifies as a burlesque show sketch, but entertains nicely. The Hendersons and the Butlers, two new teams, made their first appearance and won favorable attention. Both women in these sketches are clever, especially the Yodle singer. Will Dorsey's orchestra was in good form throughout.

Bill at the Phoenix.

"The Apache Renegade," an Indian story; "Little Raven's Sweetheart" and "Fortune in a Cup" were the photo plays at this house. Clarence Jones' orchestra is doing wonders with appropriate music.

Bill at the Merit.

"The Power of Destruction" was the big feature attraction in picture plays at this house. Manager Howson is now giving vaudeville on Saturdays and Sundays. Todd's orchestra is now in fine form. Thompson and Radcliffe and Pearl Hunter were the artists of last week.

Chicago News and Stage Notes.

Lukie W. Johnson's new trio, now playing dates in Chicago, consists of Johnson, Gray and Walker.

• • •

Mrs. A. Butler's new hat and gown shop is in their new luxurious parlor at 3412 State street.

• • •

Rance Smith played a return date at the Archer avenue theater last week. Allen and Morton stopped the show at the Ellis theater last week. The Grant quartette consists of Rodger Jones, Earl Wilson, W. E. Roberts and J. R. Manning.

• • •

Nicholson's gents' furnishing goods store, located at 21 West Thirty-fifth street, has been making good in supplying the needs of customers in modern styles, up to the standard in competition.

• • •

Jensen's studio opened auspiciously last Saturday at their new place of business, 2940 State street. The shooting gallery remains at the old stand, 2950 State street.

• • •

Joe Johnson, a retired Pullman porter, has opened a lunch and dinner restaurant at No. 3 Root street. Chas Radis is now located in the old established tailor shop at 10 West Thirty-seventh street. W. H. Moore's coal and express is now doing a nice business. These places are just around the corner from State street.

• • •

The Consolidated Construction Company (colored), with offices at 3522 State street, is building the new theater now in course of construction at State and Thirty-fifth streets. H. Watts is president, and W. D. Alimono, who is secretary, treasurer and general manager, has a large number of southern mechanics working on the job. There are also some white laborers employed, as the company does not draw the color line.

• • •

Princess Sotanki, the East Indian snake charmer who played at the Monogram theater last week, wishes to make it known that she is not an oriental dancer and there was no fear of her dance being immoral at any time during her engagement. She states that the Dance of Death is a snake dance in which her monster live reptile is exhibited. She made a hit and drew big houses and her return will be welcomed.

The tenth edition of Frank P. George's "Danabegay" and "Invincible Celebrities" will take place at Oakland Music Hall on next Tuesday evening, November 19. The following galaxy of artists will appear: Madam Annabella Cook (in two voices), Mme. Lillian Lee Ingram, Mrs. Ruby Coleman-Fulton, Miss Rena Blunt, Junius H. Sayre, George C. Hall, Balnche Logan, George Jones, Alex D. Taylor, Chas H. Young and Henderson W. Bowens, tenor, a special added attraction, who will introduce Arthur Porter's new lullaby, "I Love You, Mammy.", Mr. George is to appear, impersonating the late Richard Mansfield, in "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde." The concert will take place at 8:30 and the dancing at 9:45. Garfield Wilson's orchestra of ten pieces will assist. W. J. Kelly is manager of the interior, and Sam Fielding is manager in advance. A big social gathering is expected.

Assistant States' Attorney Jas. A. Scott gave a private dinner to Major John R. Lynch- ex-congressman from Mississippi and fourth auditor of the treasury, at his residence in the American apartment building, on November 2nd. The invited guests were Attorney William G. Anderson and wife, Mrs. Boger-Anderson, Frank H. Hamilton, Sylvester Russell, Donald J. St. John, of St. Vincent, West Indies, a medical student at the Northwestern University; Nelson Kincaid and Mr. and Mrs. Scott. The dinner was served in courses wine, silver bread and butter plates and pearl handled knives were used. The dessert was fruit pudding with brandy sauce flamed with fire. After the dinner Mr. Scott read unpublished manuscripts from his history containing Major Lynch's record, at which time champagne and cigars were served.

THE AUDITORIUM THEATER, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The sensation at the Auditorium theater last week was Loretta, the mystic mental telegraph and second sight. The publicity heralded broadcast was no fiction, as this act was the best of its kind ever seen. This was followed by Bert Whitman and her three Sunbeams, who delightfully entertained, as was evidenced by the thorough enjoyment of the large audiences all week. Taylor and Taylor did soft shoe dancing and sang favorite songs. They were given a cordial welcome in our city, and they responded generously with encores. Daisy Martin and Coy in song and dance were also received with favor, on a whole they were adequate and pleasing.

CIRCLE THEATER, PHILADELPHIA.

Glenn and Glenn, Headliners.

The week ending November 8, closed one more grand financial success of seven days. The same old story, turned them away daily. The bill was opened by the Silver Star quartette, four good singers and dancers, who won the approval of all. Costello, a character entertainer, a little slow at the beginning, but came home with a rush. The Brown sisters, two beautiful Creoles, did a very nice act, which was readily appreciated. John Day and Miss Regostis were the laughing hit of the bill. Day is a good coon song shouter. Miss Regostis, a three-hundred-pounder, can sing and dance, too. They, together, fairly set the audience wild. Glenn and Glenn, a pair of hard workers, second to none, easily won headline honors. They sang, danced, did Virginia essence and a contrography of domestic life. A scream closed the show. This week we have Leeo Marrionetts, Glenn and Glenn, Mattie Phillips and Girls, Blanch Deas and Elmer Grant.

THE RABBITS FOOT MUSICAL COMEDY COMPANY ON WHEELS AGAIN.

A Rabbit's Foot Musical Comedy Company, which was owned and managed by Patrick Chappelle, is now under the management of Fred S. Walcott, who is also the owner of the F. S. Walcott Model Carnival shows. Speaking in regard to the Rabbit Foot Company, this season the show is larger, better and stronger than ever before. This year it seems more like a rabibt foot than during the twelve years passed.

Mr. F. S. Walcott, who is now the sole owner and manager, has spared no pains in making this one of the very best shows in the country, and this year it has no equal, from the street parade to the stage. We can't leave out the tow cars, as they are holding up for themselves in every town in which we play, for their appearance outclasses all the others.

The show numbers forty-five persons, including ten canvasmen. On the stage are twenty-nine persons, all star performers. The band consists of sixteen good musicians. Here is the personnel: F. S. Walcott, owner and manager; Ed (Dad) Howard, stage manager; George Williams, band leader; Joseph M. Means, steward. On the stage, John Means, T. H. Dumars, Joe Doukes, Billie Freeman, Carter Lockheart, Mose Watkins. Extremes, Frank Tansel and Original Happy Howe. Semi-circle, Ed (Dad) Howard, interlucto; Frank Dukes, Lillian Lockheart, Joseph M. Means, Lillian Dukes, Robert Reeves, Frank Means, Frank Reed, Carrie Collum, Nettie Howard. Olio, Billy Freeman, Mack Allen, Dokes and Dokes, Means, Tansel and Collum. The last act is entitled "A Judge for a Day."

LOUISVILLE, KY.

By Geo. Slaughter.

Miner's "Americans," the big American beauty show, which comes to the Buckingham theater next week, beginning with a matinee Sunday, is one of the best known attractions in burlesque. The offering this season is said to contain nothing but the latest material, new faces and bright song hits and dances that appeal to the lovers of high-class variety entertainment.

The company is a large one and includes the names of many well-known performers, among them being Felix Rush, Chester Nelson, May Wentworth and the clever soubrette, Margaret Flavin. There is also a big chorus of twenty young and pretty girls who are handsomely costumed.

The name of the four act musical offering is "A Yankee Doodle Girl." It is replete with comical situations and sparkling humor. The scenery is claimed to be elaborate and exceedingly attractive.

Some of the exceptionally pretty musical selections are "I Love to Hear an Irish Band," "Daddy Did the Same Thing Fifty Years Ago," "You're My Baby," "Island of Roses and Love" and "Everybody Two-Step."

Some very pleasing vaudeville specialties are introduced at intervals in the entertainment.

SEEN AND HEARD WHILE PASSING.

S. Tutt Whitney.
New Orleans.

Before beginning our engagement at the Temple theater, we learned that the John Rucker Stock Company had set us a rapid pace. Under the direction of such talented performers as John Rucker, J. Francis Mores, John Boone and Ervin Miller, the stock company is having a profitable run, and giving excellent satisfaction.

The Smart Set Company played four nights at the beautiful Temple theater. The house was inadequate for the many people who desired to attend. Those who were fortunate enough to see "His Honor the Mayor" pronounced it the best show the Smart Set Company has yet produced.

Mr. A. O. Smith, proprietor of the Chicago hotel, and Miss E. B. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the same establishment, tendered the entire Smart Set Company a most delightful banquet.

The banquet was served in the commodious dining room of the Chicago hotel. The dining room was artistically decorated for the occasion.

Some of the most prominent men of the Crescent City were in attendance. Geo. H. Mays, Jr., conspicuous in the affairs of Mound Bayou, Miss., officiated as toastmaster. Mr. Mays is an eloquent speaker. His bright and witty remarks were enjoyed by the entire company. Frank B. Smith, attorney-at-law, and I. Hamilton Brooks, headwaiter of the St. Charles, made short speeches, from which the company derived much benefit and encouragement. J. Homer Tutt, Miss Blanche Thompson, Marie Wayne Townsend, Leigh Whipper, Russell Smith and Yours Truly, made appropriate responses. A feature of the evening was the recitation of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's poems by Miss Hattie Akers. Miss Akers is a member of the company and an elocutionist of rare ability.

Mr. Smith is an ideal hotel proprietor. His pleasing personality and effervescent humor make it a genuine pleasure for one to be a guest of the Chicago hotel. Mr. Smith is a small man with ideas wholly out of proportion to his body. He is planning to erect another Chicago hotel on the present site. The building will be eight stories high, contain 325 rooms, and be erected at a cost of $600,000. Stock will be sold at $1.00 per share. This is but the inception to erect a series of hotels in ten of the largest cities of the United States, at a cost of not less than $500,000 each. The company, of which Mr. Smith is president, is capitalized at $2,000,000.

Mr. Leigh Whipper, who enacts the difficult role of Major Jinks, the one-legged war veteran, celebrated his (?) birthday while in New Orleans. He was the happy recipient of many beautiful presents. Mr. Whipper is the son of the late Judge J. W. Whipper, of Beauford, S. C. At present Mr. Whipper resides in Washington, D. C., with hi ssister, Dr. I. R. Whipper.

FRANK HENDON INFORMS STAGE-STRUCK GIRLS.

This is Also Interesting to Geeks—Slanguage Diet Classically Served.

Public halt! No, no, not a bunch of holdup men; not even a bunch of politicians. But an attractive lobby display, all compiled by the "get the grapes" Billy McClain, will compel you to apply the brakes to your powers of locomotion if you attempt to promenade by the Indiana theater, which is located on upper Indiana avenue. The lobby is dressed up in a suit of penny-arcade machines, but there is the dearth of a faithful coaxer standing out in front doing a magnetic talking act, plus tolling the bell. "None of that stuff," says Mr. McClain, "there are lots of belles in town and when I'm ready I'll get them all and don't have to give them any rings."

Boxing in the first, second and third degree. Not only that but they fix you up as a pug while you wait. I'll not take up your time describing this modern amusement spot, for it would take hours to tell one-third of the numerous curosities. Therefore, I would advise any old maid to bet her pincushion against a shiftless rounder's pair of cigarette butts that the house has "got 'em."

A few years ago Mr. McClain had the misfortune of getting caught in a French-flavored whirlwind, which landed him safely in Paris. While over there, he developed actors, managed stock companies and some say he even put on state fairs, state of affairs or something of that sort. They may be mistaken about the state of affairs, but what's the "diff?" as Billy can do anything. We all know his reputation went skyward when he became Sam McVea's manager, for he was then able to stage doings to suit himself. At different times he would dish out in courses the most delicious brand of boxing contests imaginable. For instance, we will say "A La Billy." Isn't that Frenchy?

He was a broad-minded chap, too,
  As broad as a Broadway Lord.
What did narrow pugilist do,
  While Billy was abroad?

Mr. J. J. Jeff was then champion. Mr. J. A. Johns was hoping to reach the same. The latter sufficiently wormed himself into the "Dominion of Prominence" to get a little notice. The sport scribes then called him the big smoke. Mr. Jeff, believing in the old saying, "where there is so much smoke there must be some fire," drew the color line. I don't know what color it was, but it surely must have been of a gay hue, for Mr. Jeff was in California when he drew it, and Batling Nelson was somewhere in the New England states, but spied it immediately and jumped on the safe side of it. When this strategic performance was pulled off, Nelson had already overshadowed Gans' claim on the lightweight title, and the newspapers were seconding the motion. As to money, Gans was as low as a toad frog multiplied by disgust. Al Hereford, Gans' old manager, and a gentleman, who, I think, is well versed on "getrichquickology," had told him to git. Hereford used to hand Gans a bunch of sweet talk, and if Gans even smiled, Al would take the encore, but he would come back with a pantomimic stunt—"presto change, bing! vip! a lemon," and Gans was never able to understand where it sprang from. After Gans was presented with the last lemon it put him under a great strain. He took the bunches of sweet talk and the lemons that Al used to give him and made lemonade. Went to Al under this strain. Al took the strainer; strained the lemonade; made use of the filtrate and left Joe for the results. Nelson at this time was flying almost as high as the comet, but the great ringmaster soon loomed up in the horizon of the Battler's ambition. They signed, and the fight was pulled off in a little state out West where the people believe in freedom. Some dissatisfied couples have called this little state a paradise. I call it emancipation spot, just because it has Reno.

Now for the fight. When it comes to taking punishment, Nelson has got all other little fellows hammered to a hopeless murmer. Gans handed him enough knockout drops to send any other lightweight to Slumberville for an indefinite period, but the Battler seemed to accept them with gratitude. Joe pounded him in the face, but Bat didn't flinch, which is plain proof that he had a bunch of cheek. Joe sent a multitude of sleep producers to Bat's jaw. The latter blushed like a village maiden on proposal night. Right here I want to say that had Nelson lived in the days of yore, Sampson could have used his jaw instead—well, anyway, he's got some jaw. We all know how the fight ended. There is no more talke about Nelson; Gans has gone; but there could have been no prize-fighter died who would have been more universally mourned than Joe Gans.

Now, girls, you all know about Jack Johnson's affairs, therefore, I'll not worry you with that part of pug history, but if you ever want to get the inside dope on other hidden mysteries, I'm yours for interrogation.

Ten real Negro ragtime singers scored a tremendous hit at the Hippodrome, London, Monday. They wear fashionable evening clothes and strike London most fortunately, for them, at the height of the craze for syncopated plantation melodies.

Those Colored Entertainers are certainly meeting with success, presenting their skit, "A Night at the Carabet Show," at the vaudeville houses.

Those Colored Entertainers scored a distinct hit at the Arcade theater Monday, presenting their skit, "A Night at the Carabet." There was plenty of comedy and enough singing to gladen the hearts of all.

Mme. M. Harper, who is filling a number of engagements in and around New Rochelle, N. Y., is featuring the late classic melodies, also scoring a big hit with her feature numbers. She possesses a voice of rare sweetness, which is under control, and the difficult numbers which she knows how to handle are the keynote of her success. THE L. D. JOEL THEATER COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.—CAPITAL, $25,000.

The L. D. Joel Theater Company is the latest venture of note in theatrical circles. Mr. Joel, the head of the new company, is well known in Atlanta and in other cities of the South, where he has conducted a chain of theater with success. Having seen his opportunity for increasing his business by extending his circuit, he concluded to form his new company of $25,000 capital stock, with the privilege of increasing the capital stock to $100,000.

The objects of the corporation are stated as follows:

The particular business they propose to carry on as such corporation is a general theatrical business, including the buying, operating, equipping, leasing, maintaining and conducting theaters and show houses of any kind and character for the presentation to the public of vaudeville, minstrel, opera and other similar performances and shows and of moving picures. They desire the right to buy and sell real estate, either for the conduct of the general business of the proposed corporation, or for investment, and the right to buy, sell or otherwise exchange all interests in or to real estate. They desire the right to do all and such other things as may be necessary for the carrying on of said business, or that they may deem advisable therefor, including the operation of the theatrical or performers booking exchanges or circuits, the buying, leasing, selling and exchanging and the maintenance of musical instruments, moving picture films, and all theatrical, operatic, stage and show house supplies of every kind and character.

L. D. JOEL,
The Theatrical King.

The place of business of the proposed corporation shall be in the city of Atlanta, Ga., and its principal office shall there be located. Petitioners desire the right to establish other offices in such other places in the state of Georgia, and in the United States without the state of Georgia, as the proposed corporation may desire at any time.

They desire the right to have and use a common seal, to plead and to be impleaded, and to make all necessary by-laws and regulations for the governing of said corporation, and to do all other things that may be necessary for the successful carrying on of said business. They desire the right to execute notes and bonds as evidence of indebtedness incurred or which may be incurred in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and to secure the same by mortgage, security deed or other form of lien under existing laws.

A publication of Mr. Joel's city, in speaking of him and his venture, says: "Mr. L. D. Joel, who is the promoter of the new enterprise, and who will be its largest stockholder, has achieved a wonderful record as a theater man in the last five years. Mr. Joel is the original builder and operator of show houses for colored people in the South. He operates a large number of theaters exclusively for colored people throughout the South, and has his headquarters in Atlanta. Mr. Joel also has the exclusive booking of colored performers throughout the South, and in this way controls the movements of the colored profession. One of Mr. Joel's theaters, The Central, located on Central avenue, in this city, is the largest and finest exclusive colored theater in the United States."

Mr. Joel is well and favorably known by the colored performers generally. They speak in the best terms of him.

Gant's choir furnished the music....Mr. Coleman, of St. Louis avenue, fell off a street car Saturday and was taken to the city hospital unconscious, but was resting very good Monday.

YOUNG MAN IN PRISON WANTS FIRST FRIEND.

In the federal prison, at Leavenworth, Kan., is a young colored man who was sent there on the charge of white slavery. He pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty and sentenced for two years on the 16th day of November, 1911. He is now eligible to parole. He has the following to say of himself: "My name is David H. Harris, late of Cheyenne, Wyo. I am a young man, honest, sober and reliable, by trade a first-class barber and musician, and wish some reliable person to vouch for me as a first friend. I am doing a light sentence at the federal prison and am now eligible for a parole and in case I pass the next parole board would like to have someone that would employ me and act as a first friend, desiring to locate in some western town, and will be very thankful, Address 7785 U. S. Prison, Leavenworth, Kan.

REKLAW'S SUPERIOR TOOTH CLEANER.

The finest in the world of its kind. I found nothing to equal it.—C. W. Scott, 2921 Armour avenue, Chicago, Ill.

My teeth were so black until they had turned blue almost. They are perfectly white now.—Mrs. Joseph More, 1686 East Eighty-first street, Cleveland, O.

My teeth were real yellow; now look at them after washing them twice with Walker's Superior Tooth Cleaner.—Miss Margaret Jackson.

Removes everything unnatural from off and between the teeth. If this is harmful, something to eat is harmful to the teeth. In five minutes after washing the teeth, half of the blackness will be removed. It is guaranteed to make the teeth perfectly white. As a rule when the dentist cleans the teeth he scrapes them and that takes the gloss off the enamel, but this will clean them and leave the enamel uninjured. Nothing will add to the beauty of a young lady or gentleman more than a set of pretty white teeth.

It even improves the appearance of the face more than the clothes do.

Agents wanted. Write today, Chas. H. Walker, Room 2, Union Blk., Lima, O. This will be sent to any address in the United States.

25c and 50c per bottle, and one bottle will keep the teeth white for one year.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORT.
BY HAROLD C. McGRATH.

Young Lowery, the well-known welterweight of Indianapolis, has gone to Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will continue his efforts to head his class. The Pittsburghers will like the gentlemanly little fellow, who looks like anything else than a fighter. Just you start something, then see.

Young Oliver, white, will have Roy Charleston in charge. Charleston is the colored middleweight scrapper who will meet Kid Ash in Cincinnati the latter part of this month. Charleston is willing to meet any man of 158 pounds. Will also bet $500 on the side. He is backed by a good class of men who believe in him. They will furnish the funds. Charleston has had twenty fights, winning eighteen of them by the knockout route. He fought a ten-round draw with Kid Ash. He fought fifteen rounds with Jack Morgan. He is twenty-one years old.

THE CLANGOROUS GATES HEAVE TO ON THE FESTIVE CHAMP—HIS REDUCING THOUSANDS AS COUNTERFEIT.

Baseball in California—Rube Foster's Men Meeting With Fine Treatment Columns of Newspaper Talk—Playing the Games of Their Lives.

(By Billy Lewis.)

It is with great regret that in following the fortunes of Champ Jack I find it necessary to speak of him as he is today baffled and beaten by the courts in an effort to be at liberty. He should have known that the eyes of envy and prejudice were on him, and that it was up to him to walk as circumspect as it was possible for him to do consistent with his mode of life. It was enough that he snatched from the white race one of its most coveted trophies. Had he worn his honors quietly, as Joe Gans wore his, rather than making an effort to put it over everybody, today he would be walking the streets of Chicago admired and respected. But no; he must have automobiles, more than one. He drove them in a spirit of defiance. And this was tolerated in a kindly spirit. He was let off with light fines, light reprimands because he had undeniably won a place for himself that compelled attention. He fully fitted that oft-quoted expression of Bulwer Lytton, and to the effect that he had carved out an empire for himself which the praises of men could not widen, nor could their condemnation make less.

* * *

Johnson was short on philosophy. He argued that he had rights the same as any other American citizen. He seemed to be obsessed with the idea that he was to be a sort of pacemaker for the Negro race, proving what merit and grit could do. He assaulted the unwritten law of non-amalgamation, his crowning victory. Not that others are not in the same boat. The woods are filled with "mixed marriages," but they are not advertised by men in high places. He failed to reckon with the growing disposition right among his own folk to give the white people a wide berth in this matter, thus he found himself between two fires, the "sinning" being such as to put him beyond redemption. But at that, he was making it fairly enough until he proved that he had a method in his madness—in the persistency of wooing white women.

Johnson laid on the last straw when he took on the Cameron girl. He broke the camel's back. Rage that had smothered and smouldered long—the old fires that had died down, long since soothed to sleep by the magic touch of the Johnson wand—revived, and are now fanned by the gusts of passions that promise to cease when he has drained his cup of bitterness.

* * *

The champion has shown up as of the two extremes of mankind—a lion, a lamb. When in his elements, before the yelling thousands of the arena, he withstood the shock of colliding battleships, laughing 'midst the battle's brunt as laughs the stormy petrel in the teeth of old ocean's gale. When in humiliation before the law his great rigid soul reduces as metal teased beyond endurance by the passionate flames. But the steeled fangs of the law were as ruthless as the grave which refuses to give up its own. The old passions have done their work and our champion has suffered the thing he so much dreaded—the taint of a prison cell.

* * *

It may be that they are rubbing it in on Jack just a little strong. I rather think so. I am not on to the laws on such offenses as he is charged with, but it seems that he might have been kept out of jail, since he could furnish a sufficient bond. I am not in sympathy with Johnson's escapades, but I have sympathy to some extent for Johnson, the individual, freed of his escapades. I am not on to the difference between the value of a cash bond or one guaranteed by property. If a cash bond simply anticipates Johnson's flight with the woman and that condition (a cash bond) is imposed at the judge's discretion to prevent such a flight then the judge had very little to do. It does not seem reasonable that the court should anticipate Johnson's intent, even if it were his avowed purpose of dropping the entire $30,000. Men are given to flying $30,000 bonds? not much. To me it appears that the law, the court, should have no cognizance of Johnson's intent, even if he had declared it himself. That's an extreme position, but I think it is right. We, the people, are not interested, if we know what's good for us in persecution, but prosecution. Johnson's case is getting dangerously near to persecution if it is not there already. Johnson's actions are not being upheld by Negroes anywhere, but we, everyone of us, will soon think that Johnson is being maltreated right in the courts. I have nothing in common with the recall; nor do the actions of one judge or two or forty judges prove the necessity. At the proper time, or through the proper authorities those needing to be recalled should go. The system of government need not be "busted" up owing to the conduct of a judge. If the individual suffers in the instances, there are yet higher courts that can help righten; failing there, and there, then the basic principle is bad, and our country will be no place for free men.

Johnson is a Negro; he has done much to merit, much of what he is getting. But it is hardly necessary to impose the last condition of humiliation. If the woman is meant to be saved from Johnson's clutches, the court may rest assured that he will run from her when he sees her. If th ecourt means to punish him under the "white slave" law act, it acts extraordinary when it scours heaven and earth to find evidence, going into ancient history, so to speak. If the court means vengeance regardless of the custom of courts, and because popular sentiment sustains, then it has forgotten its purpose of existence. The courts are to protect those whom others would devour; they are not to go into the devouring business themselves. Passion has no part to play there, nor memory, nor anything excepting the cold evidence and the usual court procedure.

Rube Foster's team, the American Giants, now in Los Angeles, Cal., is carrying everything before it. It is getting such fine treatment that it is doubtful whether the fellows will care to get over the Rockies again very soon. The coast papers do not spare ink when doing sport. The Los Angeles Times not long since was redolent with the doings of the team and the boys, all on red paper.

Elsewhere will be seen how generous the publications are in criticisms as well as space. Splendid cuts of the players are seen. Perhaps nothing like the attention has been given Negro players before. The writers poke some fun, true enough, but in the meanwhile they don't omit the fine and worthy points. The treatment is but little different to that given the best white clubs in the East. Such expressions as "White men must play to beat the brunettes" were fair enough. They showed a respectful consideration of the men, and struck off a situation which was keyed up highly—in the games' interest.

The white men did not play enough ball—Rube's team put it over the McCormicks to the tune of three games to one up until this time. This is a partial report of the second game:

"Both teams played fast ball and the 2,500 fans in the bleachers cheered themselves hoarse as their favorites, the Giants, came romping home with the honors of the day.

"The big feature of the game was the wonderful pitching of the Giants' twirler, who allowed only four hits and one run. Lindsay is the colored slabster's name, and he further humiliated the McCormicks by scoring ten strikeouts against their best stickers."

* * *

The Giants opened what is known as the California Winter League in Los Angeles, losing to the McCormicks in the first game, 8 to 5. The league is made up of only four teams: The McCormicks, the Tufts-Lyons, the San Diego and the American Giants. The Giants is the only colored team in the league. The percentage column is featured. It looks as if Rube's team will win the pennant. It took the second and third games by scores of 3 to 1 and 4 to 3. Ten innings were required for the third game.

Batteries—McCormicks, Chech and Whaling; Giants, Dougherty, Gatewood and Petway.

Second Game.

The Giants brought in their first tally in the first inning when Barber scored, but were tied in the second when Whalen let a fly get past him and Goodman crossed the plate for the McCormicks.

The Giants came back with two more tallies in the fourth, when Pierce knocked one over the fence and brought in Taylor from second. These were the last scores, as both twirlers tightened up for the rest of the fracas. Score:

$3.50 RECIPE FREE, FOR WEAK MEN.

SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TODAY—YOU CAN HAVE IT FREE AND BE STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous delibity, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3831 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid reciept in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

"Viyella" Flannels!

Do NOT Shrink

In other words the unbelievable is true. The maker said so three years ago; then we proved for ourselves that he told the truth; now customers tell us daily what we already knew and what you should that there is one flannel that does not shrink in the wash—"Viyella."

For men's shirts, for women's blouses, for children's wash frocks, for winter night gowns—nothing is so satisfactory or so pretty as Viyella flannel.

It is 31 inches wide, perfectly fast in color, absolutely unshrinkable and only 75c a yard. 178 styles for your choosing.

CITY AND VICINITY.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Mr. Bert Evans, at the city hospital, is slowly improving.

Everyone! Look out for the country dance to be given soon at Odd Fellows' Hall.

Miss Hannah Jackson has opened a delicatessen and lunch room at 919 East Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Virginia B. Emery, of this city, left last night for Bradentown, Fla., for an indefinite stay.

Mr. William Boston, manager of the Caterers' Club at Fort Wayne, Ind., was in the city the past week.

Do you like music I mean real music. If so, hear Mme. Anita Patti Brown at Allen Chapel, November 15th.

Mrs. Mattie D. Johnson and Mrs. Mollie Britton, of Minneapolis, Minn., are visiting in the city this week.

Mr. W. H. Fielding, in Michigan street, will give a dinner Sunday for the benefit of St. Philip's mission.

Musical treat of the season will be at Allen Chapel November 15th, when Mme. Anita Patti Brown, of Chicago, will sing.

Mrs. John Middleton, of 441 Indiana avenue, died Monday afternoon, after a long illness. Her remains were taken to Zenia, O., for burial.

Master Edward Knox, son of Elwood C. Knox, has just returned from a three days' stay in Chicago, where he visited his aunt, Mrs. Emma Smith.

Mr. James Julius Turner, formerly of Indianapolis, accompanied by his family, left Chicago November 9 for San Diego, Cal., to spend the winter.

Supt. G. R. Bryant will hold a quarterly meeting at Barns' chapel, in North Indianapolis, in the evening and at Scott's chapel on Martindale avenue, in the morning.

The East End Club will give a reception at the home of Miss Mancy Black, 521 West Michigan street, on Friday, November 22, from 4 to 8 o'clock. A silver offering is requested.

William H. Levells, of 626 West Thirteenth street, left Tuesday of this week for Jackson, Tenn., on business. While in the South Mr. Levells will visit Memphis, Nashville and Little Rock, Ark., before he returns to the city.

The Rev. L. E. Christy, of the A. M. E. church, was in the city this week, looking after business matters. He is located at Springfield, Ill. Rev. Chirsty is well known in Indianapolis, where he was known as a teacher in the public schools and later as the publisher and editor of the Indianapolis World.

Messrs. Valentine, Thomas Taylor, Hayes, Lewis, Thomas, Pritchard, Timberlake, Henderson, Stokes, G. L. Knox, Drs. Perkins, Ward, Hoffman and Baptiste were the guests of Miss Edna A. Scott, at her home on North Senate avenue, at a buffet luncheon in honor of her brother, William E. Scott, who has returned from Paris, France. An enjoyable evening was spent.

JONES TABERNACLE,

North and Blackford Streets.

Sunday, November 17, the regular services will be carried on, at which the pastor will participate. In the evening the pastor will speak to the unsaved again. The results along this line have thus far been very gratifying, and it is hoped that they man continue to grow and that many will be saved.

The harvest home dinner, which it is intended will be given by the officers and members on Sunday, November 24, promises to be a noteworthy occasion. Ample arrangements are being made, and so is the Thanksgiving dinner by the mission board of the church. You will get a nice roast beef and pork dinner for 15 cents, and a turkey dinner for 25 cents. You must not fail to come and help us magnify each of these occasions.

Mrs. A. W. Blackwell, wife of the bishop of this district, is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Rowan, 948 Camp street, and will be in the city for several days. The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society will hold its monthly mass meeting at Norwood, in Penick chapel on November 20.

FEVER DESTROYED HER HAIR

Two years ago I had fever which took out all my hair, I used your Pomade and now have a nice head of hair, long and thick. I owe it to your Pomade, writes Mrs. L. Garrett, 3619 Dearborn St. Chicago, Ill.

Ford's Hair Pomade is the old time tried remedy for harsh and unruly hair, that has been giving satisfaction for over fifty years. Ford's Royal White Skin Lotion is a highly antiseptic, nonirritant skin remedy. It makes the skin whiter immediately upon application. Ask your druggist about these remedies. Be sure and get Ford's, manufactured by the Ozonized Ox Marrow Company, Chicago, Ill.

For sale by Ferger's drug store, Vaughn Bros. drug store, Pink's Pharmacy, Eureka drug store, Hadley Bros., druggists; Robt. P. Blodau, James H. Noe, Graves Pharmacy, Geraldine Pharmacy.

FORUM HOLDS FIRST MEETING.

Prospects Bright for a Strong Organization—Meeting Place at Bethel Church.

The Young People's Forum held its first regular meeting last Sunday afternoon at Bethel A. M. E. church. The meeting was called to order by its president, Walter Price. Prof. C. H. Johnson, instructor of art at Wilberforce University, addressed the organization in a forceful and explanatory manner on temptation.

The public's response to call of the pro tem organization is encouraging and the prospects of the future society are very bright in making the Forum an exponent in developing better citizens.

BETHEL CHURCH NOTES.

Last Sunday was a remarkable day at Bethel. In the morning the pastor deliver an excellent sermon on the subject, "Asking for a Cloak." A large congregation turned out to hear him. The Sunday school was well attended, and the collection was good.

At 4 o'clock the Young People's Forum was organized, and Prof. C. H. Johnson, teacher of art in Wilberforce University, was the speaker. The attendance was good, and the promise for a useful and interesting society is encouraging.

In the evening a large congregation again listened to Professor Johnson. The senior and junior choirs rendered delightful music.

Tomorrow the pastor will preach in the morning on the subject, "Naaman." In the evening the subject will be "Conquering Faith." All are cordially invited. Don't forget the coal rally!

WOMAN'S CIVIC CLUB NOTES.

The National Association asks for contributions to the Mary Dunlop McClean memorial fund, which is to be used for the publication of National Association literature. The association has much valuable literature which it wishes to print as pamphlets.

Charles Ed Russell will address this branch on his tour through the Middle West.

Prejudice grows. Two of our teachers were refused sodas in the new five and ten-cent store, unless they paid $5 a glass. At Huder's drug store sodas for colored people are unfit to drink.

We think that the city administration should do something for its colored people. We want not only offices for a few, but privileges for the mass—the guaranteed right of a citizen in any place open to the public.

If your child is ambitious and you desire her to have a college education, see that she enters "Latin Center." Ask her teacher about the "Latin Centers."

We are proud of Miss Selma Beck, a student at Butler College. Miss Beck is a graduate of Shortridge.

The American Negro has had three hundred years of drudgery. His culture period has arrived.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Rev. J. R. Lauderback, of Roanoke, Va., will address the monster meeting Sunday afternoon, November 17, at the Crown Garden theater, Indiana avenue. His subject will be "Sin and How to Get Rid of It." These meetings are given for the benefit of the male public, and every man is welcome. Miss Adelaide Thomas will give a solo as a special number. Dr. Joshua Stansfield delivered a powerful address to a large audience of interested men at the monster meeting last Sunday. He spoke at length upon "As a Man Thinketh." Mr. S. Echols Payne sang a beautiful tenor solo as the special number.

The Y. M. C. A. Bible school is the thing that is filling a long vacancy of the association. Under the able tutorship of the Rev. W. H. Weaver the class is proving one of the most attractive features of the season. There is plenty of room for more students. The many luncheons that have been given at the building for various working organizations have had the effect of bringing out many members whom we have not seen for some time. The luncheon of last Friday was a notable instance of such. On last Friday evening at an invitational luncheon given by Mr. G. L. Knox, chairman of the committee of management, there was launched what we believe to be the largest membership campaign ever conducted by the colored men's branch of the Yung Men's Christian Association. It will be the last campaign in the old building and under the old membership fee, hence the campaign slogan, "Last in the Old."

There was a large amount of enthusiasm shown as man after man acepted a captaincy. The readiness with which they accepted and earnest desire to organize their various teams but too plainly shows the vigor with which this campaign will be pushed. It is the hope of the association that when this membership campaign is over and the cheering has ceased, it will be found that the Indianapolis colored department will be sure to lead the world among the colored branches. Tow $2 a man will have the privilege of the swimming pool, the gymnasium with its suspended running track, bowling alley, shower baths, reading and library room, pool and billiard room. The fellowship one gets in such an association is worth the while of joining. He meets the man of every walk of life, from the day laborer to the business and professional man, and this will mean a great deal.

We urge each man of Indianapolis to take advantage of this unequalled opportunity. Two dollars pays a membership for twelve months.

ROSCOE CONKLING SIMMONS IN THE CITY.

The Y. M. C. A. Building Nearly Completed—Rev. Dr. L. G. Jordan Will Move Office to Philadelphia.

By Lee L. Brown, 1006 W. Chestnut St.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Special.—Col. Roscoe Conkling Simmons, the well-known journalist of New York City, is the guest of the city. During his short stay he made a number of very important addresses, the chief of which was at Calvary Baptist church last Monday evening, where he spoke upon the subject, "The Spirit of the Martyrs." The respected colonel was the guest of the Falls City Medical Association at the residence of Dr. Pickett on Finzer avenue Tuesday evening. In his usual eloquent way he delivered a very thoughtful address that caused every physican gathered to take note. Colonel Simmons is en route to Mt. Bayou, Miss.

• • •

The very beautiful building of the Y. M. C. A. is nearing completion. All of Louisville has good reasons for being proud of this most magnificent structure, which will be dedicated to the Negro youth of Louisville, and will be equipped with every modern appliance. Mr. Moreland, the international secretary, will be surprised when he pays another visit to Louisville. The present structure about to be completed will have about thirty-five bedrooms with shower baths. There will be a swimming pool, gymnasium, reading rooms, dining hall, lockers and every modern convenience. Already the board of directors has instituted a red and blue membership contest which will last for about two weeks.

• • •

The fight for school commissioners is over. Let us all get together and use every effort to try and secure some of the needed improvements that will serve to promote the general welfare of our colored schools. We admit much has been done, but there is so much that can be done.

• • •

The citizens of Louisville who are interested in the general welfare of the youth are in sympathy with little Mator McFerran, who was seduced by a white man in the Cook county hospital, Chicago, Ill.

• • •

The great reception tendered the Rev. Blackwell last Friday night was indeed a success. We understand that over four hundred persons attended. Rev. Blackwell is a newcomer in Louisville, and already he has gained a host of friends. He has a very important pastoral charge. We believe that the congregation has a fearless leader who will serve it well. Already he has demonstrated the fact that he is in Louisville for real work.

• • •

The younger set is all looking to the great football game to be played between the Cane Club and the Alpha Omega. The boys are all working hard. This promises to be one of the most interesting games of the season. The Cane Club team was the champion team last year. This year they have a live set of boys who play football for all it is worth. The Alpha Omegas were not so successful last season, but this year they have been playing good games, and these have been worthy of note. The boys are all robust, and are not afraid to play in the game. The talk of the town is the Thanksgiving game. The State University boys will go to West Virginia on Thanksgiving day.

• • •

With election over, the next thing in order is the usual fall revivals to be held by the several churches scattered over the city.

• • •

We take our hats off to Bishop Walters in his great fight for democracy. We didn't vote for Wilson, but we are glad that some other fellow of our race is standing so close to the throne that he is likely to be consulted when it comes to hand out portions of the national pie. Three cheers for Cary B. Lewis and his work for the cause!

• • •

Rev. L. G. Jordan, the Baptist "Steam Engine," who has full control of the work of the National Baptist Association in foreign countries, is about to transfer his office to Philadelphia. We regret to see him go, as he has been a very important factor in Louisville, as well as throughout the United States.

• • •

The passing away of the Douglass building as a landmark is to be regretted by every public-spirited person in this city. We understand a company from Alabama will soon open in this building a first-class hotel—an institution much needed in this city.

• • •

Rev. Jordan has our best wishes for continued success. A reception will be tendered him by the citizens of Louisville some time next week.

• • •

The Bass Chef Club will hold memorial services in the memory of the late Prof. F. S. Delaney, at the New Quinn chapel church. Quite a fitting idea to pay tribute to such a noble character as Professor Delaney was.

• • •

The Alpha Phi Alphas held a very important meeting at the office of Dr. L. S. Brock Wednesday evening.

• • •

The Fisk University local club held a very interesting meeting Monday evening, looking toward a better organized local Fisk Club. Mr. Hamlin, of Fisk University, has the organization in his charge. Fisk University is well represented in Louisville.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR.

For those whom nature has slighted by failing to give them beautiful hair, do not worry, for modern science has provided a remedy for all such causes. To all who want beautiful hair, don't fail to visit Mme. W. B. Brock, the hair culturist, who delights in making short hair straight, and in time long and beautiful. Mme. Brock's Nutrition, the hair grower, put up by her, works wonders. It fertilizes the scalp and starts your hair to growing. She also carries a line of hair goods at her home, 81g East North street, Centralia, Ill.

COMPLAINT FOR DIVORCE.

State of Indiana, Marion County, ss:

In the Circuit Court of Marion County, in the State of Indiana.

Bessie M. Burse vs. Manly L. Burse.

No. 21747.

Complaint, Divorce.

Be it known, that on the 20th day of October, 1912, the above named plaintiff, by her attorney, filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Marion County, in the State of Indiana, her complaint against the above named defendant, Manly L. Burse, and the said plaintiff having also filed in said Clerk's office the affidavit of a competent person, showing that said defendant, Manly L. Burse, is not a resident of the State of Indiana, that said cause of action is for divorce; and whereas said plaintiff having by endorsement on said complaint required said defendant to appear in said Court, and answer or demur thereto on the 1st day of January 1913.

Now, therefore, by order of said Court, said defendant last above named is hereby notified of the filing and pendency of said complaint against him and that unless he appear and answer or demur thereto at the calling of said cause on the 1st day of January, 1913, the same being the 27th judicial day of a term of said Court, to be begun and held at the Court House in the City of Indianapolis on the 1st Monday in December, 1912, said complaint and the matters and things therein contained and alleged, will be heard and determined in his absence.

JOHN RAUCH, Clerk.

Isaac L. Wiseman, attorney for plaintiff.
